

Automation of Exchange Rates

Exchange rates vary from day to day. It is a monotonous and time-consuming job to update M3 with each change. Meridion has developed an automatic API flow for exchange rates that irradiates the need for manual updates. This can be deployed both on prem and in Cloud edition.

The Solution

The solution updates CRS055 in M3 via API's from any Central Bank. The solution is adapted to both the current installation and the future one of the customer. The responsible person is informed via email if an exchange rate change occurs outside the given interval.

Among our customers are SCANIA, GA Lindberg and Swegon using this solution.
